INTRODUCTION.

IS there a Handbook to the Public Records? Such is the question that is frequently heard in the public search-rooms of the stately building—hidden away between Chancery Lane and Fetter Lane—in which the records of this realm are now permanently located. The answer to this query usually results in the presentation to the luckless inquirer of a copy of a work known as "Thomas's Handbook."[1] Seldom, however, does this form of reply meet with the applicant's approbation, or produce any satisfactory result. Glancing over the pages the reader soon becomes hopelessly bewildered by the long array of "classes," duly marshalled under their respective Courts, —an essential matter in reality in the scientific arrangement of the records, though utterly unintelligible to others than experts—and, almost invariably, the beginner's attempt to master the intricacies of "Thomas" ends in a wild shot at a class which, in nine cases out of ten, has not the remotest bearing on the particular inquiry.

It is clear, then, that the Handbook here noticed is not one that is adapted to the requirements of the ordinary searcher. For official purposes, or for those who have made the Public Records the subject of a lengthy study, the work has merits, but as a most competent authority once remarked :—"It is as heavy as suet-pudding, and just as indigestible!"

[1] Handbook to the Public Records, by F. S. Thomas, Secretary to the Public Record Office. London: Eyre and Spottiswoode, 1853.

The true Handbook to the Public Records is to be found in the Reports of the Deputy Keeper, and in those of the Record Commissioners. These volumes constitute, however, what an American might term a "large order," inasmuch as the present number of these Reports does not fall far short of sixty volumes, including several bulky folios. Still, it must be borne in mind that the subject dealt with is a large one, and the individual who shall hereafter succeed in compiling a concise, simple, and fairly comprehensive guide to the public collections of manuscripts will deserve the eternal gratitude of all record students.

In the meantime, and until this desideratum is forthcoming, the question suggests itself—Cannot the numerous Archæological Societies do something to facilitate researches among the records? It is to this question that the ensuing pages are intended to furnish what to some may appear to be a rather strange and lengthy answer.

At first sight, no doubt, the long lists of names and places will to many seem altogether unconsultable, and perhaps even unintelligible; but it is the Editor's firm conviction, after nearly twenty years' experience of searchers and their requirements, that the system here illustrated is the only one that can really assist the ordinary working antiquary. The Public Records, it must be remembered, are rendered accessible by Indexes which, in most cases, are only in a manuscript form. These have been compiled at different periods during the last five hundred years; they vary greatly in their method of compilation, or, as some might think, their want of it; and many of them are far more difficult to decipher and understand than the manuscripts to which they refer. Again, being unique, they are liable to remain as little known as the originals to which they are the guides, and the crabbed hands in which many of them are written make their perusal so tedious and painful, that all but the most enthusiastic searchers are deterred from such an arduous undertaking.

It is evident, then, that considerable aid can at once be rendered by placing these laboriously compiled MS. Indexes before the worker in a different shape, that is to say, first, by putting them into type, and secondly, by furnishing such introductory hints as may be requisite for the proper understanding of the nature of the documents to which each particular Index refers. This scheme, if carried out on a sufficiently large scale, would ultimately result in the compilation of an exhaustive collection of record-references; for the work should include, in the most concise form possible, every reference given in the numerous MS. calendars, catalogues, lists, agenda-books, pye-books, docket-books and -rolls, repertories and every other kind of referential aid which still remains unprinted.[1] Such a work would form the best and simplest guide to the records, as it would contain none but direct references, and thus no special knowledge of the classification of the public collections would be requisite for its due comprehension.

Thus, the days lost to the working antiquary whilst wading through Index after Index, on the chance of finding a notice of a particular name or place, would all be saved, and his whole time could be occupied upon the development of an abundance of good references easily gleaned from printed sources. By this plan, too, those long and wearisome searches, solely devoted to the unsatisfactory task of authenticating particular statements in printed works, would be materially helped.

In these pages this larger scheme is considerably modified, for the material deals only with a single county; yet for that county the work should embrace, if carried out on the scale intended by the Editor, all the Norfolk references that the larger work would have supplied.

But, even if the undertaking never advances beyond the present instalment, the few lists here given will result in a great saving of time and labour. To take an example, the list of Chancery Inquisitions given on pages 5 to 48 should save the necessity of toiling through nine large MS. volumes, which would occupy a rapid searcher several hours and perhaps days, while the examination of the printed lists given below will occupy but minutes, and when the general index is available these minutes will be reduced to seconds. So, too, with the other lists. They have all been selected with a view to save labour and to bring to notice documents which would be likely to escape attention.

And here it is necessary to add a few words with regard to the system of editing applied to the Indexes now printed. No attempt has been made to revise the old references, and even if this had been deemed desirable, such revision was not in the Editor's power. To revise an Index means, as all must know very well, nothing less than to do the work all over again. Such editorship could never be applied to the scheme here illustrated. The entries and references have merely been collected and arranged in a more convenient form than they appear in the MS. volumes, but the text of the Indexes has been invariably adhered to, except in a very few cases where the errors of the indexer could not admit of a doubt. It is, therefore, very probable that the Norfolk antiquary on taking up this book will promptly suggest any number of emendations of the text. If so, the Editor's advice is, let him carefully test his list of supposed corrections by the light of the originals themselves before he condemns the readings given in these pages. Familiar names often appear in strange guise in ancient manuscripts, and the indexer is not to be blamed if he chooses to follow the quaint spelling of the record. These remarks have especial reference to the Index to the De Banco Rolls given on pp. 223 to 265. There are many place-names in this list which are difficult to identify, but this is not altogether the fault of the compiler, though it is quite possible he has erred at times. The common mistakes in indexes are to find c substituted for t, m for ni, in, ui, or iu, n for u or v, and vice versâ. But these errors will not mislead anyone familiar with records, and many of them are duly corrected in the general Index, though it has not been considered either safe or desirable to alter the readings in the body of the work.

From the foregoing remarks it is to be hoped that it will be patent to all that it would be altogether unfair to judge of the value of this suggestion for the gradual formation of an exhaustive "Norfolk Repertory" by the two volumes to which the present instalment is limited. This is but a small specimen of such a work, and it will only be when other helpers come forward and add another ten or twenty volumes to the present ones that the advantages of the undertaking should be apparent to all.[1]

In making use of this book all that the Editor would ask of his readers is, to run through this short introduction and the notes that precede each list; the remaining portions may be left to the general Index at the end of the second volume, for, as it need hardly be remarked, these are certainly not intended for consecutive reading. Anyone who should attempt to treat the lists in this manner would find himself much in the same position as the deluded individual who tried to read a dictionary, and on being asked what he thought of the work, replied, that it was very interesting but—somewhat disconnected! The material here printed may certainly, without disparagement, have this last-mentioned qualification applied to it. Indeed, this variety in the entries should constitute a distinct merit.

In conclusion, the Editor has much pleasure in acknowledging the great assistance rendered by Miss Constance Rye in furnishing excellent transcripts of the old Indexes. Mr. John A. C. Vincent, who is so well known among antiquaries for his skill and extreme accuracy in the treatment of ancient and difficult MSS., has also, with his usual kindness, supplied most valuable help in the same direction.

Norfolk Records.

INQUISITIONS POST MORTEM,

OTHERWISE CALLED

Henry III. to Charles I.

Although antiquaries may differ as to the precise value to be attached to the Inquisition post mortem, none will venture to depreciate the importance of the information attempted to be ascertained by means of this formal process. It is above all things certain that no genealogist or topographer can afford to ignore the evidence of this "class" of the Public Records.

So many descriptions of the documents have already appeared in print[1] that a fresh one need not be put forth in these pages. It will therefore suffice for the present purpose to reproduce a passage from a "manuscript collection," which is printed in Cooper's ill-digested but otherwise valuable and interesting Account of the most important Public Records of Great Britain, &c.

"For general information concerning Real Property, its descent, and the Pedigrees of families, these documents are perhaps the most valuable of our national Records. On the death of any person seised of lands, writs were directed to the Escheator of each county or district in which such lands were situated, commanding him to take them into the King's hands, and to inquire by jury what those lands were, their annual value, the rents or services by which they were holden, and who was the next heir of the deceased, and his age; and the Inquisition so made the Escheator was directed to send into the King's Chancery under his seal and the seals of the jurors. These Records, particularly in the earlier reigns, frequently contain the most minute and valuable information, not only as regards the extent, the value, and descriptions of the property, but also as regards the state and manners of society in those times. The numbers and condition of the several tenants of manors are set forth, the lands they held, the courts that were holden and their value, as well as markets, fairs, fisheries, ferries, parks, warrens, mills, &c., where there were any. In short, the information contained in very many of these documents is of so extensive and curious a kind, that it would be difficult to fully describe them or to appreciate their value."[1]

In addition to the foregoing, it may be noted that Inquisitions frequently recite in extenso wills, marriage settlements, private deeds, and other important documents, of which the originals are no longer forthcoming.

The Inquisitions post mortem, &c., relating to the county of Norfolk fall into five principal groups, with regard to which it may be useful to remind the uninitiated that the Inquisitions returned into the Exchequer and the Court of Wards and Liveries are merely transcripts of the originals sent into the Chancery. These transcripts are, however, none the less valuable, for they supply, in many instances, defects which the collection of originals, from loss, decay, and other accidents, may have sustained. These five groups may be thus summarised:—

I. The Tower Series. Hen. III. to Rich. III. (with Appendix, Hen. III. to Chas. I.) This series is calendared in four folio volumes, with Indexes of Names and Places, entitled, "Calendarium Inquisitionum sive Escaetarum

[1] Cooper, vol. i. p. 338.

temporibus Regum Hen. III., Edw. I., et Edw. II., &c., 1806—1828."[1]

II. The Rolls Chapel Series. Rich. III. to Chas. II. The indexes to this collection are nine MS. volumes, as follow:—Vol. 1 contains the Inquisitions post mortem from 1 to 24 Hen. VII., and the Inquisitions taken virtute officii for Rich. III. and Hen. VII.; Vols. 2 to 8, the Inquisitions from Hen. VIII. to Chas. I. inclusive; and Vol. 9, the "Miscellaneous Inquisitions" for the reigns of Elizabeth, James I., Charles I., and Charles II. A list of the Norfolk Inquisitions noticed in these nine volumes is printed on pp. 5 to 48 of the present work.

III. The Exchequer Series. Hen. III. to Jas. I. This series is calendared in twelve MS. volumes:—(1) Hen. III. to 14 Edw. III. One volume arranged in two divisions—"Citra" and "Ultra Trentam." Norfolk falls under the Citra Trentam division. (2) 14 Edw. III. to 1 Rich. II. Two volumes arranged in nine divisions or groups of counties. Norfolk comes under the third group, with the counties of Suffolk, Cambridge, Huntingdon, Essex, and Hertford. (3) Rich. II. to Rich III. Four volumes arranged alphabetically under counties. Norfolk is contained in Vol. 10. (4) Hen. VII. to James I. Three volumes arranged alphabetically under counties. These last-mentioned three volumes are printed in the Appendix to the Tenth Report of the Deputy Keeper of the Public Records, and from this source the Norfolk Inquisitions have been selected and brought together, in a concise manner, at pp. 49 to 74 of the present volume.

[1] It may be worth noting that the "second numbers" in these printed volumes are, as a rule, Extents of manors, &c., and Inquisitions ad quod damnum.

IV. The Court of Wards Series. 34 Henry VIII. to Chas. I. The Inquisitions belonging to this abolished Court are referred to by means of two MS. volumes, from which all those relating to the county of Norfolk have been taken out, and the list thus compiled is given on pp. 75 to 92 below.

V. The Duchy of Lancaster Series. Edw. I. to Chas. I. These Inquisitions are arranged and bound in volumes, the references to those relating to Norfolk are given in the printed calendar entitled "Ducatus Lancastriæ. Calendarium Inquisitionum post mortem, &c., temporibus Edw. I. —Car. I." There are only a very few documents in this collection prior to the reign of Henry VII.

N.B.—A comparison of the ensuing Lists will shew that there are frequent discrepancies in the references to the same Inquisition, thus, Bitton, Thomas (1 Hen. VII., No. 96) in the Chancery list (p. 6), appears as Thomas Bacon in the Exchequer series (p. 49). The correct reading of the name can, however, only be ascertained by referring to the original documents; but, as the Exchequer list is derived from a modern official publication, it should be more correct than that of the Chancery series, which has been compiled from the ancient MS. Indexes. The similarity of the abbreviated forms used to denote Edward and Edmund, viz., "Edr̃i" and "Eḋi," is the cause of frequent mistakes as regards these names.

LICENCES AND PARDONS.

Alienation Office.

Though almost entirely neglected by the antiquary, the ancient Indexes of Licences and Pardons belonging to the abolished Alienation Office furnish, both directly and indirectly, the clue to much information which is very material in tracing the history and devolution of estates.

The cause of the neglect of these MS. Indexes is not far to seek. They are written in very much abbreviated Latin; the handwriting is not readily decipherable by others than experts; and the references are not intelligible without precise explanation.

Unfortunately, too, an important series of volumes, to which the indexes give references, cannot now be identified, though the information which is thus wanting can, it is believed, be supplied from other sources.

Originally the MS. volumes, of which the Norfolk portion is now translated and printed for the first time, referred to three classes of records:—

(1) A series of volumes probably extending from the reign of Henry VIII. to that of Charles II. These are the volumes which cannot now be traced; the references to them are distinguished in this work by being placed between round brackets. They seem to have been books containing the particulars of Licences for alienation, and of Pardons for alienating without licence; but with the clue here furnished, the original Licence or Pardon can, with slight research, be traced either by the official Indices Nominum to the Patent Rolls, or by means of certain volumes known as Palmer's Indexes;[1] the latter help to fix the date of the Licence or Pardon.

(2) A series of twenty-one volumes entitled Entry Books of Licences and Pardons, commencing in Easter Term, 13 Elizabeth, 1571, and extending to Michaelmas, 1680. The references to these volumes are given below between square brackets. The following extract from one of the Entry Books will suffice to shew the nature of their contents.

[31 Elizabeth, fo. 311.]

NORFF.—Licencia concessa Roberto Woode, militi, quod ipse manerium de Aylesham Sextens et CC acras terræ, prati, et pasturæ, in Aylesham, Marsham, Heveningham, Brampton, Buxton, et Banningham, Tuttington, Burrough, Erpingham, Plompsted, Booton, North Reppes, Bradfeild, Overstronde, Hanworth, Itringham, Matlaske, et Hempsted, Eccles, Walcott, Ridlington, ac Advocatio ecclesiæ de Hempsted, in comitatu Norffolciæ, alienare Johanni Wolmer, Willelmo Stewarde, et Galfrido Warde, armigeris, et heredibus suis. Teste ij° Septembris xxxj. Valor—xx*li.*; per compositionem—vj*li.* xiij*s.* iiij*d.*

(3) The series of Inquisitions post Mortem, from Henry VIII. to Charles I. The year only is given as a reference, but the number of the Inquisition can be easily ascertained by means of the Lists printed at pp. 5 to 92 of this work.

To sum up the preceding remarks we may add, that if the record student will work the ensuing List of References in conjunction with the Patent and Fine Rolls, the Feet of Fines, and the Inquisitions post Mortem, he will soon learn to appreciate the value of what at first sight might appear to be, in its original form, an obsolete and useless manuscript.

[1] A very valuable portion of these Indexes is given in another part of this work. The working antiquary will soon see, by comparison of the entries, the connexion between Palmer's MSS. and the Index printed above.

PALMER'S INDEX LOCORUM

TO THE

PATENT ROLLS.

Henry VIII. to Charles II.

In the Appendix to the Twentieth Report of the Deputy Keeper of the Public Records, on pp. 184 to 188, a Catalogue Raisonné is given of a remarkable collection of Indexes[1] purchased by the Government from the executors of Mr. Thomas Palmer, Clerk of the Rolls Chapel Records and subsequently Assistant Keeper of the Public Records.

Probably the most valuable portion of this collection is the series of twenty-four volumes—compiled about the end of the seventeenth century—containing concise abstracts, in Latin, of the Royal Grants enrolled on the Patent Rolls, extending from the reign of Henry VIII. to that of Charles II.[2] This period is especially important, seeing that the vast possessions of the dissolved monasteries and other religious foundations were then being gradually dispersed. The abstracts furnish the date of each grant of lands or

[1] The Report referred to describes 158 volumes and parcels of Lists, Indexes, and References to various classes of Records. Any enthusiastic collector of record-references might easily fill his note-books with valuable material from this source alone. Not so many years ago the fee for a general search through these same Indexes is stated to have been not less than five guineas!

[2] As already stated elsewhere in this work, most of the Grants noticed in the Index of Licences and Pardons (pp. 93—155) can be traced by means of these alphabets.

hereditaments, the name of the grantee, the parcels, and the duration of the interest of the grantee.

The Alphabets given below refer to these volumes of Abstracts of Patents, and by means of the latter the copy of the original grant can be traced on the Patent Roll.

The official Indexes to the Patent Rolls for this period are arranged alphabetically under the names of the grantees; but as the name of the original grantee is usually the precise information that is required to be traced, an Index Locorum, such as that supplied by Palmer's MSS., is far more needed by the searcher.[1]

The English version of an extract from book "D" (on page 158), will serve as an illustration of the contents of the MSS. to which the ensuing alphabets refer.[2]

[1] "The necessity of an Index of Places in dealing with the Patent Rolls will be more fully appreciated if we remind our readers of a practice which obtained in suing out Grants from the Crown that tended, in no slight degree, to conceal the names of the real grantees. As it is explained in Sir Francis Palgrave's Second Report, it was customary that several individuals who had agreed to purchase lands from the Crown, or who had sued or applied for the same, procured the Grant or Patent to be made unto one individual, as a trustee or nominee on behalf of all who had made the application or sued out the Grant or Patent. They thus paid the fees only for one Patent, and the nominee then conveyed the property in lots to the parties entitled to the same. The knowledge of this fact may also help to solve the difficulties experienced by searchers in connection with some of these early Patents."—SELBY's Lancashire and Cheshire Records, vol. ii. p. 465.

[2] It should be particularly noted that these alphabets are not complete for the period Henry VIII. to Charles II. This may be seen by consulting "T. P.'s (Thomas Palmer) Guide Book in searching this Series" (vols. 128 and 129). The volumes of which the alphabets are now printed are those lettered D, I, K, L, P, S, T, V, W, Y, "H.R," and No. 29. How the volumes for the other letters of the alphabet may be worked can be ascertained by referring to Palmer's Guide Book. It should, however, be stated that A and B are prior to Henry VIII.; C, E, F, G, H, and X, contain no Norfolk entries; and J and U are not represented in the series. Thus the alphabets required to complete the above lists are those for volumes M, N, O, Q, R, and Z. Vol. 34 contains mixed county alphabets, in which are many Norfolk references. Vol. Q has nine folios devoted to Norfolk Entries, 1—4 James I.

PLACITA DE BANCO.

Common Pleas.

THE Plea Rolls[1] of the Court of Common Pleas, or, as they are more commonly designated, the De Banco Rolls, in which are recorded the particulars of the litigation carried on in this Court, extend in an almost unbroken series from the reign of Henry III. to the present day. In bulk the class far exceeds that of any other series of the public records, and the contents are as valuable as they are varied.

An exhaustive Index to these pleadings[2] can never be undertaken, but it is quite possible to furnish a clue to the really important issues here enrolled. Indeed, this seems to have been the object of the compiler of the ensuing

[1] First, they are Plea Rolls, brought in on the parties joining issue, and then called Issue Rolls; and these, when the Judgments are added, become Judgment Rolls. After Easter Term, 25 Elizabeth [A.D. 1583], the De Banco Rolls divide into two distinct series of Rolls, the one known as the Common Rolls, containing, the ordinary pleadings; the other being the Recovery Rolls, in which are enrolled all the Recoveries and Deeds.

[2] "Pleadings were formerly written in Norman Law French, introduced by the Conqueror; this continued until Edward III. By Stat. 36th Edward III. it was enacted that for the future all pleas should be pleaded, shown, defended, answered, debated, and adjudged in the English tongue, but be entered and inrolled in Latin. The technical Latin continued in use till the Commonwealth, when the language of the records was turned into English; but at the Restoration Latin was again used, and continued till 1730, when the proceedings in law were put in English under Stat. 4 George II., c. 26, and court-hand was altered by the same statute."—Thomas's Handbook to the Public Records, p. 135.

Index; but how far this seventeenth century compilation exhausts the important entries for the reign of Edward II. can only be determined by testing it with the Rolls.

The reader will be better able to form some notion of the extent of the field of original research offered by the De Banco Rolls, when it is stated that, in the fourteenth century, a roll of two hundred membranes, each membrane being about 36 inches by 12 inches, for each of the four legal Terms of the year, is considerably below the average; whilst in the time of James I. a roll for a single Term will contain four or more parts, each part consisting of some three thousand membranes! Thus, the rolls for a single year of this later period would, if printed in extenso, suffice to form a small library.

It is here only necessary to remind the Norfolk antiquary that the De Banco Rolls represent an almost entirely unworked mine of information.

BILLS AND ANSWERS.

Exchequer, Queen's Remembrancer.

These records of the Equity side of the Exchequer (Queen's Remembrancer) not only furnish evidence which is largely used in matters of litigation at the present day, but they also provide interesting materials for the local historian and the genealogist.

The English Informations are in the name of the Attorney General for the time, on behalf of the Crown, and relate to the revenue; in some cases they are at the relation of private individuals, with reference to charities and other public trusts and uses. The English Bills are other proceedings in equity, between subject and subject. The Answers, Depositions, and Examinations are further proceedings thereon.

These English Informations and Bills are entered in MS. books called Bill Books, the documents being arranged under counties, containing the number as marked on each Information or Bill, together with the names of the plaintiffs and defendants, and, in some instances, brief particulars of the matters in dispute. The documents range from the first year of the reign of Queen Elizabeth to 1841, when by Stat. 5 Vict. c. 5, the jurisdiction of the Court of Exchequer as a Court of Equity was transferred to the Court of Chancery.

The results of the litigation, of which the Bills and Answers furnish the more minute details, will be found recorded in the volumes of Orders and Decrees of this Court.

Among the subjects with which the Exchequer Bills and Answers deal, the following may be enumerated:—the jurisdiction of manorial courts, warren rights, tithe suits, disputes respecting the boundaries of manors, parks, and forests, surveys of lands, customs of manors, the assessment of fifteenths and tenths, dilapidations and repairs of churches, claims to mines and minerals, the ownership of mills, and particulars of bonds, recognizances, and debts.

It may here be incidentally noted that the Special Commissions[1] and Depositions by Commission[2] contain a great deal of information similar in character to the contents of the Bills and Answers. The documents in these two classes of the Public Records, so far as they relate to the county of Norfolk, are rendered easily accessible by means of Mr. Walter Rye's Index to Norfolk Topography.[3]

The ancient MS. index, from which the ensuing list has been prepared, shows the state of the manuscripts at the time of its compilation, that is to say, early in the seventeenth century; but since that date many of the files have disappeared, and the entries in the old index are therefore now the only evidence remaining of several of the Bills and Answers. In these cases the searcher can only turn to the
